A Song in the Mad Lover Set by Mr. John Eccles, Sung by Mrs Bracegirdle.

Must n/y a faithful Lover go, Scorn'd & banish'd, banish'd like a foe, Oh! let me Rave, Oh! let me Rave, dispair, dispair,

Curse, curse my Fate yet Bless, yet Bless, Bless the Fair, for oh in spight of her disdain, I still must Love, I still must Love & hug my Chain, yet why, why shou'd Love, why shou'd Love my Heart molest, n/w Hate, n/w Hate, n/o Hate her Love posesses, Revenge, Revenge or Scorn, revenge, re-

-venge or Scorn, or Scorn shou'd rule my Breast n/w such a Swain, such a Swain, such a Swain she Blesses, n/w such a Swain, such a Swain, such a Swain she

Blesses: Then I'll no more to Coyness sue, Faith & Constant Love adieu, farewell Dotage fond Disease, welcome Freedom welcome Ease, welcome Freedom welcome Ease. I'll Rove & I'll Range, I'll Love & I'll Change, I'll Rove & I'll Range, I'll Love & I'll Change:

Every Hour & every Place, every Fair & every Face; I'll Vow & protest, I'll Swear & deceive, all all who like me are so Mad to believe, all, all, all, all, all, all, all who like me are so Mad to believe. I'll

For the Flute.
